

D. Muscio Named A Winner In The 2015 AGTA Spectrum and Cutting Edge Awards

Atlanta, Georgia, November 4, 2014 – The American Gem Trade Association (AGTA) recently announced winners in the 2015 AGTA Spectrum and Cutting Edge Awards. D. Muscio Fine Jewelry Studio congratulates lead designer and metalsmith, Dawn Muscio, on her 1st place win in the Men's Wear division.

"I'm honored to be named among the industry's top jewelry artisans in receiving this award", says Dawn Muscio, co-founder of D.Muscio Fine Jewelry Studio. "Winning a Spectrum Award fulfills a career goal in being recognized among the most innovative designers by the industry's more distinguished judges."

The winning creation is a pair of 18K red gold and stainless steel "Pink Squared" cufflinks featuring pillow cut Morganites (8.74 ctw.) accented with Rubies (.87 ctw.) and Diamonds (.60 ctw.), retail $7600.

The AGTA Dinner Dance and Awards Gala will honor all 2015 Spectrum Award winners on February 7, 2015, during the 2015AGTA Gem Fair in Tucson, Arizona. The winning entries will be on display.

More about The American Gem Trade Association

The American Gem Trade Association is a non-profit serving the natural colored gemstone and cultured pearl industry since 1981. The organization has sponsored the annual AGTA Spectrum Awards™ design competition annually for 31 years. This year's panel of judges included: Jerrold Green, of Reginald C. Miller; Myriam Gumuchian of Gumuchian; Joseph Mardkha of ColorMasters; Tim McClelland of McTiegue & McClelland; Larry Pelzel of Neiman Marcus; and Dr. Jeffrey Post, Smithsonian Institution.

More about D. Muscio Fine Jewelry Studio

D. Muscio fine jewelry studio, located in Atlanta, GA, offers more than 25 years of experience designing personalized and unique pieces. Whether a new or restyled design, D. Muscio blends high quality craftsmanship with a modern aesthetic and technologies to create timeless and cherished fine jewelry. Each custom piece remains 100% unique to the client and will never be replicated. Experience the evolution in fine jewelry at www.dmuscio.com.

